About Joy

Inanna Joy is a motivational author and speaker who uses lessons from her journey of life and love—her questions, problems, mistakes, and victories—to fuel self-discovery in others. She's a curious observer, determined seeker, and thoughtful social critic who loves sharing her musings and not-so-humble opinions.

Joy began writing social commentary and speaking as a lay minister at 15. Her spiritual world has since expanded, and she now has a passion for assisting others in self-deconstruction and reinvention—a process that she knows well.

Her creations include The Jane Luck Adventures novels, Bibliotique—a pop-up shop featuring fun accessories for the bookish and bougie—and a provocative new self-help collection, currently in the works.
